

BAM2019 Doctoral Symposium

2nd September 2019
 Aston Business School, Birmingham

Poster Presentations

Title	First Name	Surname	Institution
A systematic approach to utilising Artificial Intelligence for the development of agile and collaborative Supply Chain Networks	Anna-Maria	Clauss	University of Applied Sciences Zwickau
A Theoretical and Empirical Analysis Of Governance Disclosure Quality Within Pakistani Listed Banks. Evaluation Of Revision Consequent To The Revised Pakistani Corporate Governance Code, 2012 And 2017	Atta	Muhammad	London South Bank University
Actors and HRM practices at Chinese MNC subsidiaries in the UK	Amani	Shajera	University of Nottingham
Big Data influence on knowledge sharing in organizations: A Study of E-Commerce Industry	Foujila Mannan	Keya	University of the West of Scotland
Bouncing back from bankruptcy: Narratives of entrepreneurial antifragility	Amit	Rawal	Brunel University London
	David	Sarpong	Brunel University London
	Georgios	Batsakis	Brunel University London
Capturing Managerial Cognition and Investigating the Impact of Scenario Planning in the Shipping Industry	Gökhan	Gökmen	University of Strathclyde

CSR STRATEGY DEVELOPMENT: A micro-level analysis of MNC subsidiaries in developing countries	Sameer	Mody	Coventry University
Customers Brand Engagement with Brand-related Content in Social Media	Ovinda	Wijeyaratne	Nottingham Trent University
Entrepreneurial Project Failure, Error Orientation and Learning from Failure	Xiangming	Tao	Royal Holloway, University of London
	Paul	Robson	Royal Holloway, University of London
	Catherine	Wang	Brunel University London
Entrepreneurial Success Factors of Nigerian Women Entrepreneurs in UK	Temitope Victoria	Afolabi	University of the West of Scotland
Exploring the critical success factors of Artificial Intelligence systems implementation: an empirical study and proposed integrated model	Nishamani	Patabendige	University of the West of Scotland
Impact of individual and shared perceptions on employee commitment and organisational citizenship behaviour (OCB): The role of organisational Justice and Trust	Sidra	Yousaf	Nottingham Trent University
Information Communication Technology (ICT) Enabled Change & Innovation in Healthcare Organisations: Examining Implementation Practice of Shareable Health Data	Selma	Furtado	Technological University Dublin
Socio-technical Innovation in Sport Management: The Case of the Virtual Gym	Montana Rosemary	Cresswell	University of Salford
The governance of collaboration - Fire and Rescue Services in England	Katarzyna	Lakoma	Nottingham Trent University
The Influence of Variable Pay Schemes as HRM Tools on the Performance of Employees: case of private companies in Saudi Arabia	Abdulmajeed	Alqahtani	Durham University
The Intention of Money Donation to Local Charities: The Case of Saudi Arabia	Sarah	Binsaied	Brunel University London
	Wafi	Al-Karaghoul	Brunel University London
	Ana	Canhoto	Brunel University London