

BAM Identity Workshop

What have the identity scholars ever done for us? Starting critical conversations about impact

Facilitators:

Facilitated by Dr. Ali Rostron (Liverpool), Dr. Juliette Summers (St. Andrews), Dr. Kate Black (Northumbria)

Date of workshop

Thursday 24 May 2019

Location

Newcastle Business School, Northumbria University, NE1 8ST, UK

Proposed schedule

Time	Activity
09:45-10:15	Registration Tea/coffee
10:15-10:45	Welcome and introductions Overview of BAM-Routledge shortform text intentions Considering 'impact': Why does identity matter in the study of organisations and their activities? What is the impact of identity research on researchers?
10:45-11:15	Area 1: Developing new and innovative approaches to Human Resource Development using an identity lens
11:15-11:45	Area 2: Understanding and facilitating group behaviours through an identity lens
11:45-12:30	Starting conversations
12:30-13:30	Lunch and networking
13:30-14:00	Area 3: Understanding issues of organisational equality, diversity, fit and mis-fit through an identity lens

14:00-14:30 14:30-14:50	Area 4: How do organisational members interpret and enact their organisational roles? How these interpretations and enactments might align or misalign with managerial, productive, intentions? Doing identity: the meaning lost and found in work
14:50-15:30	Continuing conversations
15:30-16:00	Going forward ... Reflections both on the ideas presented, and participants' own research. To consider how we might better demonstrate the meaning and impact of our work for organisations and business. How might we better make the case for the value of our research? What kinds of conversations should we be having (or entering, or starting) and with whom? BAM-Routledge shortform text "Management Impact Series"